Freep 12/1/72 Nixon/Rebozo/Mafia: reminds me of a second intriguing possibility, the Commissar of Gambling under Castro is now alleged to have been Frank Fiorini Sturgis. In the dmmft of O in NO I have a story from Pearson/Anderson, I think from Parade and I think known to Hal of from him (I can't now find this story) about how the there-unnamed commissar knocked the hoods down at the casinos and details of his high life. If this were really Firoini. then there is another WG link. Bebe's wife's maiden name, according to Sundance, which went no further is Barker. Ain't too many Cubans so named.
